

Coffee with Council Focuses on Different Roles of Council

Casual, Open Format Allows Discussion of Any Question or Area of Interest

STEAMBOAT SPRINGS, COLORADO-February 5, 2019-Join Councilman Scott Ford and other available council members for Coffee with Council scheduled for Friday, February 8 from 7:30am to 9:00am in Centennial Hall.

The February edition will look at the different roles that City Council acts under as part of its scope of duties. Depending upon the matter, council's responsibilities in each of its respective roles – legislative, quasi-judicial, or as an authority – carry different stipulations and constraints. Find out what to expect when council acts in a particular facet or moves from one role to another.

Coffee with Council sessions are typically held the second Friday of each month in the Crawford Room of Centennial Hall (124 10th Street). The goal is to provide an opportunity for community members to meet with city council members in a relaxed atmosphere and discuss any issues of interest to them. Other cities and towns in Colorado have also adopted this approach in order to increase interaction between council and community members, and to promote greater transparency in city business.

No RSVP is necessary, community members are welcome to drop by to discuss any issues of interest to them. Coffee and light refreshments will be provided.
