

Christina Stewart

Support Services Division Director
Steamboat Springs Police Department

Christina Stewart is the Support Services Division Director for the Steamboat Springs Police Department. She leads 13 civilian and 2 sworn members overseeing CSO/ACO operations, Records, Evidence, including hiring, training, and special events functions.

Christina has been an employee of the Steamboat Springs Police Department since 2017. During this time, she worked in the Records department and was promoted to Records Supervisor, specializing in the adherence of the Criminal Justice Records Act. Her duties included hiring, training, establishing team-oriented and individual goals, developing standards of operation, providing crime data analysis, and project management. She has a master certification with the Colorado Certified Records Network and is a certified Spillman Application Administrator. She is the agency's Colorado Crime Information Center Coordinator, Local Agency Security Officer, and Terminal Agency Coordinator for the Colorado Bureau of Investigation. Christina has led various technical projects for the agency such as online reporting, eDiscovery, and Evidence.com auto tagging.

Prior to her employment with the Steamboat Springs Police Department, Christina worked in the private sector. Christina was the owner of Rocky Mountain Business Services, LLC. She managed a team of ten to provide an array of services to the market research industry including facilitating analysis through data organization and synthesizing information. She specialized in strategic planning goals and workload analysis for forecasting flux in the industry workflow and service demands. Christina focused on employee training and development as well as the creation of standards and protocol. She also spent several years working for a law firm performing duties of a paralegal.

Christina has a bachelor's degree in Business Administration and a bachelor's degree in the Management of Sports Industries from the University of New Haven in Connecticut. Christina has loved soccer her whole life, playing in the Northeast-10 Conference, NCAA Division II while attending college. She has a passion for winter sports and loves all things related to the outdoors. She is married with a son and three stepchildren.